Howe, Commissioner of Immigration in New York, has resigned, according to ar unsponsored press statement circulated in Washington. Officials of the Labor Department here disclaimed any knowledge of the resignation, however.

tion, the fact remains that many of his opinions were highly displeasing to conservatives. Mr. Howe made no effort to keep his opinions secret, either. He was keenly in support of a new national party. He is a member of the Committee of Forty-eight, which has set out to form such a new political organization. The committee's call for its preposed meeting in Chicago asked for the attention of "Americans who are equally opposed to reaction and violent revolution."

Florello H. La Guardia, Representative from New York, made two or three ineffectual attempts to have Mr. Howe's salary as Commissioner of Immigration withheld on the grounds that the Commissioner was an "anarchist" and tion withheld on the grounds that the Commissioner was an "anarchist" and a "revolutionist." La Guardia's latest protest was rejected by the House of Representatives when it was pointed out that Howe was an appointee of President Wilson and could be removed or rebuked only by the President.

Last May Mr. Howe presided at a meeting of "Friends of Justice for Russia," at which gathering President Wilson was criticized roundly. Lenine, Trotzky and the Soviet Government were roundly cheered at the same meeting. Immigration Commissioner General Caminetti at that time declared himself powerless to remove Mr. Howe because the latter was a Presidential appointee.

The new organization is to push the socialistic Plumb idea, but under another name. The Plumb plan caused such a reaction of public feeling against it that this new garb for the same underlying plan is to be tried now.

The press statement announcing Mr. Howe's resignation, it was learned, was put out by the Plumb plan press bureau, though it was not marked. It has this to support the same with regard to Mr. Howe and his resignation:

Mr. Howe became Immigration Commissioner at Ellis Island in 1914. He made many conemies by his so-called made an number of our accepted foreign policies. However he possesses the most modern sociological theories and he is one of the leaders of a body of officials who have branded our immigration laws as archaic. He advocated Government ownership of railreads and made a speech to that though it was not marked. It has this to say with regard to Mr. Howe and his one of railreads and made a speech to that effect in the Rand School. He was the fourth of the principal of the trust.

Mr. Howe gave out a statement, part of which follows:

"I expect to take up the practice of law and for the immediate present devote myself to the organization of the Conference on Democratic Railroad Control, to be held some time this fall. Until further conference with members of Gov. Henry Allen of Kansas, ex-Go
